Sql Introduction Basic → Advanced.

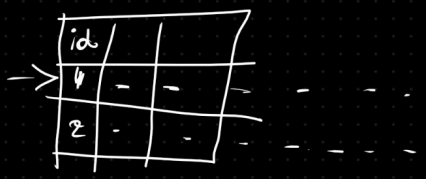

Topics to be Covered.

- Introduction to databases
- DBMS and RDBMS;
- relational database concepts;
- database vs. table;
- rows and columns;
- SQL introduction;
- categories of SQL commands: DDL, DML, DQL, DCL and TCL;
- installing and setting up MySQL / MySQL Workbench;
- creating and selecting databases;
- understanding tables and basic database structure.

Database

→ Collection & organizing the datas in an cleaned way

RDBMS

Relational Database Manage System

MySQL -> DBMS → Interface of Databases (software used to Create, store, Manage & retrieves data.

Database vs Table

Database

Collection related object

Collection of multiple table

College Database

id | Name | user

Table

Records

rows & colums

Student marks

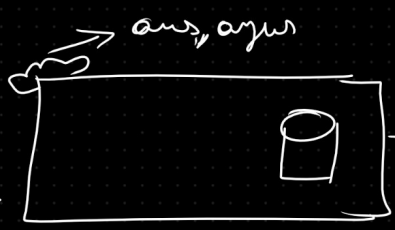

SQL → Stands for Structured query language

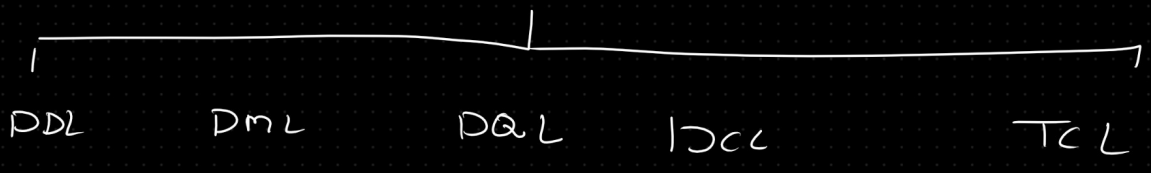

→ Retrive

Summary of sql

i) Create databases & tables
ii) Insert & Modify records
iii) Retrieving Information
iv) Managing Permission → Access
v)

Types of Sql Commands

i) DDL (Data difinition Language) -> Create, Alter, Drop, Truncate

ii) DML (Data manipulation Language) -> Insert, Update, Delete

iii) DQL (Data query Language) -> Select

iv) DCL (Data Control Language) -> Grant, Revoke

v) TCL (Transcation Control langs) -> Commit, Roll Back & Save Point.